

WHX Osaka

Formerly Japan Health

Jin Fang-Kuei

Company / Organization

Rayter International Co., Ltd.,

Title

Co-Founder

 Location Taiwan

Biography

Mr. Jin Fang-Kuei is the Co-Founder of Rayter International Co., Ltd., a Taiwan-based company specializing in medical equipment and healthcare solutions.

He has nearly ten years of experience in medical device distribution, international trade, and clinical channel development.

His work focuses on introducing advanced medical technologies and building strong partnerships with clinics and healthcare providers.

Before entering the medical industry, Mr. Jin gained experience in multinational companies in sales and market development, which strengthened his expertise in business strategy and channel expansion.

He is committed to promoting innovative medical solutions and expanding international collaboration in the fields of aesthetic medicine and regenerative healthcare.

About the Organization

Rayter International Co., Ltd. is a Taiwan-based provider of medical equipment and professional solutions for clinics and healthcare institutions.

Our focus areas include aesthetic medicine, regenerative medicine, and advanced medical technologies.

We work closely with clinics, hospitals, and industry partners to introduce reliable international products and practical solutions to the medical market.

Beyond equipment distribution, we aim to support our partners through professional service, market development, and long-term collaboration.

By integrating global technologies with local clinical needs, Rayter International strives to contribute to the development of modern healthcare and medical aesthetics.