

WHX Osaka

Formerly Japan Health

Dr Keenan Chong

Company / Organization

Ng Teng Fong General Hospital

Title

Associate Consultant
Intensive Care Medicine
Deputy Chief Medical Informatics
Officer

 Location Singapore

Biography

Dr Keenan Chong is an Associate Consultant in Intensive Care and Respiratory Medicine at Ng Teng Fong General Hospital, Singapore, and Deputy Chief Medical Informatics Officer for the NUHS group. He brings dual expertise in respiratory and critical care medicine alongside clinical informatics, with a focus on EMR optimisation, digital health transformation, and clinician facing decision support. His work spans clinical practice, health IT leadership, education, and research.

About the Organization

Ng Teng Fong General Hospital is a major tertiary public hospital in Singapore and part of the National University Health System. Designed as a smart, digitally enabled hospital, it delivers comprehensive acute and specialist care through strong multidisciplinary collaboration. NTFGH is recognised for its commitment to patient centred care, clinical excellence, sustainability, and the strategic use of digital health, informatics, and data driven innovation to enhance care delivery and operational efficiency.